Iceland is all about hot and cold..but of course! So let us try out a really cool thing like swimming in the ice filled North Atlantic Sea.

The group goes to a beach in Reykjavik where they will enjoy a private bathing experience. First there will be a quick dip into the Atlantic for the brave and then a nice warm up in a heated outdoor pool. The Ying and Yang of this experience is sure to put your body and mind in the right balance. We offer a funny game of duck hunting to get the blood running and a glass of our sea blue cocktail called the Arctic North....a refreshing taste of winter. A private,exclusive and unforgettable experience just for you!
